- (a) If a settlement is not reached through the above proceedings, the Union (in the case of an Employee or Union grievance), and the Employer (in the case of an Employer grievance) may refer the grievance to arbitration by notice in writing that must be given within fourteen (14) days of receipt of the reply at the previous stage or level to which the grievance was advanced. Notice to the Employer shall be given to the President.

 - (ii) Upon receipt of the notice referred to in Sub-Clause 25.04(a) above, the other Party shall respond within seven (7) days, indicating which system of arbitration it finds acceptable in respect to the grievance. The Parties agree that unless it is otherwise agreed between them, any resolution reached with the assistance of a mediator-arbitrator, or any determination made by a mediator-arbitrator shall not establish a precedent for any other grievance, difference or dispute.
- (e) A single arbitrator or mediator-arbitrator shall have all of the same powers as an Arbitration Board. In such cases, the Party referring the grievance to arbitration, shall, instead of submitting the name of its nominee, submit the name of the arbitrator it wishes to suggest to the other Party. 25.06 Arbitration Decisions

Arbitration decisions shall be final and binding on the Parties and all other interested persons.

25.07 Procedures and Time Limits

- (a) Time limits and procedures contained in this grievance procedure are mandatory. Failure to pursue a grievance within the prescribed time limits and in accordance with the prescribed procedures shall result in abandonment of the grievance. and

the Alberta Union of Provincial Employees

Local 071, Chapter 009

Re: Workload

The Parties agree to the following and will remain in effect until June 30, 2020:

1. Any workload concerns should be addressed with an Employee's immediate supervisor. The Employee's Supervisor or designate shall meet with the Employee and, if so desired by the Employee, a representative of the Union to discuss and resolve the specifics of the concerns.
2. Fluctuations in workload are normal and acceptable as long as they do not become excessive. Excessive workloads are systemic and unmanageable workloads that span extended periods of at least twenty (20) consecutive work days.
3. Throughout workload discussions, the parties involved will look for ways to improve processes, create efficiencies, and assess resources available to respond to workload issues.
4. Any decisions deriving from workload discussions are not subject to Article 25 - Grievance Procedure.

Re: Contracting Out

The parties agree to the following:

In order to provide job security for current members of the bargaining unit, the Employer agrees it is not the intention to enter into any contracting out that directly results in the loss of any bargaining unit Employee's employment during the term of the Collective Agreement. However, if it becomes necessary to contract out the Union will be provided with as much notice as possible and with a minimum of ninety (90) calendar days notice wherever possible. The Union will be provided the opportunity to discuss any planned intent to contract out.

This Letter of Understanding will expire on June 30, 2020.
